LOOKING IN//LOOKING OUT

This spring 2021, Transformer presents Looking In/Looking Out - a series of three solo storefront exhibitions by DC-based artists Absurdly Well, Armando Lopez-Bircann, and Yacine Tilala Fall.

Each artist will be creating site-specific installations in Transformer's storefront window space, with public programs taking place in person and within online formats.

Seeking to encourage audiences to look within themselves and outward at the world, Well, Lopez-Bircann, and Fall will explore and present personal and overarching social themes toward increased understanding and empathy of our shared humanity. The artists will be communicating and engaging audiences through a range of visual mediums and multiple public platforms.
