The Temporary Art Repair Shop

October 3 - 31, 2015

Transformer is pleased to host The Temporary Art Repair Shop, an art project conceived of and run by Berlin-based artist Tobias Sternberg. Exploring new ideas around public sculpture, arts ownership, and the value of art, Sternberg invites the public to drop off objects that are broken, faulty, disproportionate, ugly, unsuccessful, or in some way not suitable for their intended purpose, to be turned into sculpture.

The Temporary Art Repair Shop is supported by American University Department of Art, in collaboration with Andy Holtin, Associate Professor of Art and Director of AU's MFA Studio Berlin program.
